wecamp, the new generation of innovative and environmentally friendly campsites, adds four new destinations this summer. Beaches, coasts, natural parks, towns and cities of great cultural interest... wecamp has searched for the ideal environments for new openings where you can experience nature in a sustainable way.

wecamp Cadaqués, located in Portlligat, is the privileged environment of the new camping concept with a relaxed and natural atmosphere. An interior design project carried out by the Sandra Tarruella studio inspired by the architectural and aesthetic style of the 1960s. White walls, native natural materials, ceramic tiles, slate walls... A place where simplicity is not at odds with design and comfort. Apartments, glamping tents, tiny houses and exclusive pitches for motorhomes with views of the Cap de Creus Natural Park. complete the experience wecamp the El Trastocat restaurant, with a casual and quality cuisine proposal.

wecamp Cala Montgó It is located a few minutes walk from this cove with transparent waters surrounded by the Empordà forest. A renovated campsite of buildings with a native farmhouse type architecture with ceramic and wood finishes for a harmonious, bright and functional result. Duplex bungalows, wooden mobile homes with all the amenities and services and glamping tents in a natural environment surrounded by pine forest. The El Salat Restaurant, with Mediterranean cuisine with special attention to seafood, is the gastronomic offer that complements your stay.

wecamp Pirineos Combines natural beauty and cultural heritage in the town of Boltaña, located near the Sierra and the Canyons of Guara and Ordesa and Monte Perdido, two emblematic natural parks. wecamp has design accommodation to enjoy the mountainous territory: mobile homes, bungalows and glamping tents. A town full of life that invites you to do activities such as hiking, climbing or canyoning for lovers of sports activities or enjoying nature.

On Monte Igueldo, just 5km from the historic center of the city, is the place that houses the new wecamp San Sebastian. An oasis of tranquility surrounded by wild hills, 10 minutes by car from the emblematic La Concha beach. Wooden bungalows and mobile homes for families and couples and glamping tents for getaways between sea and mountains.

The new wecamp openings are added to wecamp Santa Cristina, on the Costa Brava and wecamp Cabo de Gata, in the south at the foot of Cala del Cuervo and 5 minutes walk from the town of Las Negras, in the heart of the Natural Park.

Nature and sustainability

Our campsites follow a philosophy of minimal intervention in the environment. We propose a fairer and more sustainable tourism model. For this reason, we are not only committed to green and energy-efficient buildings, we are also committed to promoting the local economy by prioritizing the use of products and services from the area, and to protecting the environment with conservation and recovery actions for native flora and fauna.

About wecamp

wecamp is a new generation of innovative and sustainable campsites that wants to revolutionize outdoor accommodation. We were born with the aim of creating an experience where it is possible to enjoy the natural environment in a sustainable and comfortable way. We apply our experience in the hotel sector to welcome everyone who is looking for more than just a campsite.
